Mind Power University, Bhimtal cordially invites all scholars, researchers, academicians, and participants to join the One Day National Conference 2025. The conference will focus on the theme "Shared Responsibility: Building a Sustainable Future for Animals and People."
This event provides a platform for knowledge sharing, research presentations, and meaningful discussions towards sustainability and compassion.

About the Conference

The National Conference 2025 organized by Mind Power University, Bhimtal, aims to bring together a vibrant community of scholars, researchers, academicians, professionals, and students from across disciplines to engage in meaningful dialogue on the theme:
"Shared Responsibility: Building a Sustainable Future for Animals and People."

This interdisciplinary conference seeks to explore the urgent need for sustainable and ethical practices that ensure the well-being of both human and animal communities. Participants will have the opportunity to present original research, share best practices, and engage in thought-provoking discussions on issues related to sustainability, compassion, environmental ethics, education, technology, gender equity, and inclusive development.

The conference is aligned with the mission of Mind Power University to foster innovation, social responsibility, and knowledge creation through academic excellence and collaborative engagement.

This one-day national event promises to be an enriching platform for academic growth, policy discussions, interdisciplinary networking, and idea exchange that contribute to building a more compassionate and sustainable world.

Objectives of the Conference

- ❖ To provide a platform for research scholars and academicians to present their work.
- ❖ To encourage interdisciplinary dialogue on sustainability and compassion.
- ❖ To highlight the role of education in building responsibility towards society and environment.

Expected Outcomes

The National Conference 2025 aims to serve as a dynamic platform for academic engagement, critical reflection, and collaborative exploration. By participating in this conference, attendees can expect the following outcomes:

- ❖ Enhanced Knowledge and Insights: Participants will gain in-depth understanding of contemporary challenges and innovative solutions related to sustainability, environmental ethics, animal welfare, and inclusive development. Through keynote speeches, technical sessions, and panel discussions, attendees will explore cross-disciplinary perspectives and cutting-edge research.

- ❖ Interdisciplinary Learning: The conference fosters dialogue between diverse academic domains—ranging from science and technology to humanities, social sciences, law, and commerce—promoting a holistic understanding of the theme "Shared Responsibility: Building a Sustainable Future for Animals and People."
- ❖ Networking and Academic Collaboration: Attendees will have the opportunity to build meaningful academic and professional relationships with scholars, researchers, educators, and policy experts. These interactions are expected to lead to future collaborations in research, joint publications, funded projects, and institutional partnerships.
- ❖ Research Visibility and Publication Opportunities: Presenters will receive valuable feedback on their work, while accepted papers will be published in the ISBN conference proceedings. Selected high-quality papers will also be considered for publication in peer-reviewed UGC CARE-listed journals, providing a platform for wider academic recognition.
- ❖ Capacity Building and Professional Development: Educators, early-career researchers, and students will benefit from skill-building experiences, including exposure to new research methodologies, presentation techniques, and interdisciplinary frameworks for addressing real-world problems.
- ❖ Contribution to Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs): The knowledge exchanged and initiatives discussed during the conference are expected to support local, national, and global efforts in achieving the United Nations Sustainable Development Goals, particularly those related to climate action, quality education, gender equality, responsible consumption, and life on land.
- ❖ Inspiration for Action and Advocacy: Beyond academic discourse, the conference aims to inspire participants to integrate compassion, responsibility, and sustainability into their personal, educational, and professional practices—ultimately contributing to a more ethical and empathetic society.
